

JACK JOHNSON

Project Leader

You miss 100% of the shots you don't take!

Jack entered the field of consulting because of his passion for building strong relationships and driving fast-paced, meaningful change. Through his leadership positions on campus and in the field, he has created meaningful value for countless projects and initiatives by understanding root causes of dilemmas and developing problem-solving skills that positively impact organizations. An avid learner and listener, Jack succeeds by developing relationships first with clients to best understand their needs. From there, he applies his leadership skills to turn problems into growth opportunities.
