

MATTHEW MURPHY

Project Leader

Igniting passionate leaders—the catalyst for success.

Matt is a passionate young professional who is refining his knowledge of lean manufacturing in preparation for a career in the consulting field. With an optimistic and enthusiastic attitude, he brings a fresh perspective and ability to drive change to any project while his technical training in analytics and project management allows him to tackle a wide variety of challenges within an organization. Matt enjoys identifying opportunities and working as a team to enjoy the fruits of those opportunities. When not on the job, Matt can be found outdoors or cheering for the Cincinnati Bearcats.
